LEWIS

A black and white photograph of a group of seven students, four boys and three girls, huddled together in a circle. They are all looking towards the camera with various expressions, some smiling and some serious. The students are dressed in casual attire typical of the early 1970s, including striped shirts, sweaters, and a button-down shirt. The text "STOANNO 1971" is printed diagonally across the center of the image in a white, serif font.

STOANNO 1971

The human face is a masterpiece of God.
The eyes reveal the soul, the mouth, the flesh, the chin
stands for purpose, the nose means will.
But over and behind all is that fleeting something we call expression.

Stow High's guidance, secretarial, custodial and kitchen staffs performed well under the fire of increasing overcrowding in 1970-71. The usual complaints were heard, the usual grievances aired — but somehow, no one cared to speculate on how well the school would run without their constant effort to keep it going.

An entirely new approach was put into practice this year by both the English and Social Studies departments. With Social Studies following the English department's lead, courses were arranged in semester-long inquiry studies of specific facets of different areas. Courses offered in English ranged from Advanced Grammar to Drama to Mass Media; the Social Studies department came up with such offerings as Comparative World Religions, and Urban Studies.

The Math and Science programs at Stow progressed in 1970-1971 with students taking accelerated courses in Algebra and Advanced Math and with the addition of Applied Chemistry, Environmental Science and Physical Science II to the science curriculum. Old hands at the game expressed amazement that the Physics and Chemistry labs survived another year of "inquisitive students," but one Math teacher was heard mumbling something about "blowing the whole place up" next year.

The lively arts at Stow comprised some of the most active departments of the school in 1970-1971. Work for the May art show started in January, with art students matting and labeling show work, which was displayed later at the Silver Springs show. The music department raised money with a choir-sponsored magazine drive and the band's tag day and candy sale. Many band members accompanied the choir at the December 16 Christmas concert, and the two officially got together for a joint concert on March 20. Two new clubs, French and Spanish, were created in 1970 for students in the language department and a new technique was employed for the first time — a videotape machine.

Thousands of students have passed through Stow High, and thousands more are yet to come. In a way, the place never changes — in many more ways, it never stops changing. The single constant factor is the people who stay behind each time another class graduates, who are here each time a new one arrives. Here before we came and remaining when we are gone, we thank them for all they've done, for being here where they are needed, and dedicate the 1971 Stoanno to them.

Many awards are made during each school year. Good citizenship, high grades, ability in sports — all are rewarded with some symbol of the recipient's accomplishment. Somehow we know the trophies, plaques and certificates mean nothing in themselves, but we award them anyway — there is no way to measure the real worth of such accomplishments, no means to count the honor of a goal reached by individual effort.

Tri-M Top Musicians: Mary Riesterer and Sue Loucks.

Future Nurses Award: Barb Yarbrough.

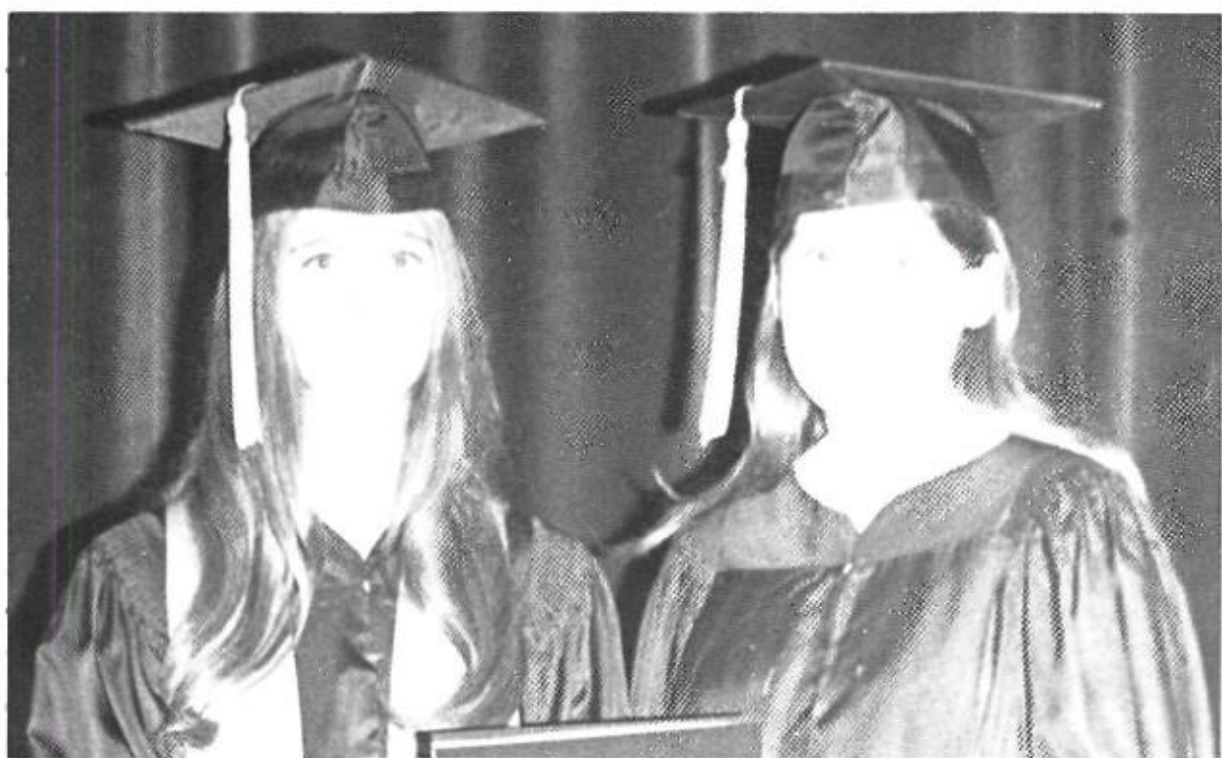

Phi Beta Kappa Award: Beth Hardesty.

Such honor remains unspoken — as perhaps it should, since in the end such knowledge is a very private thing. We can, however, say this: To the people on the next few pages — thank you for all the effort you have made. A special thanks to those — represented on those pages or not — who perhaps tried harder than we know.

Student Council Co-ordinates Activities

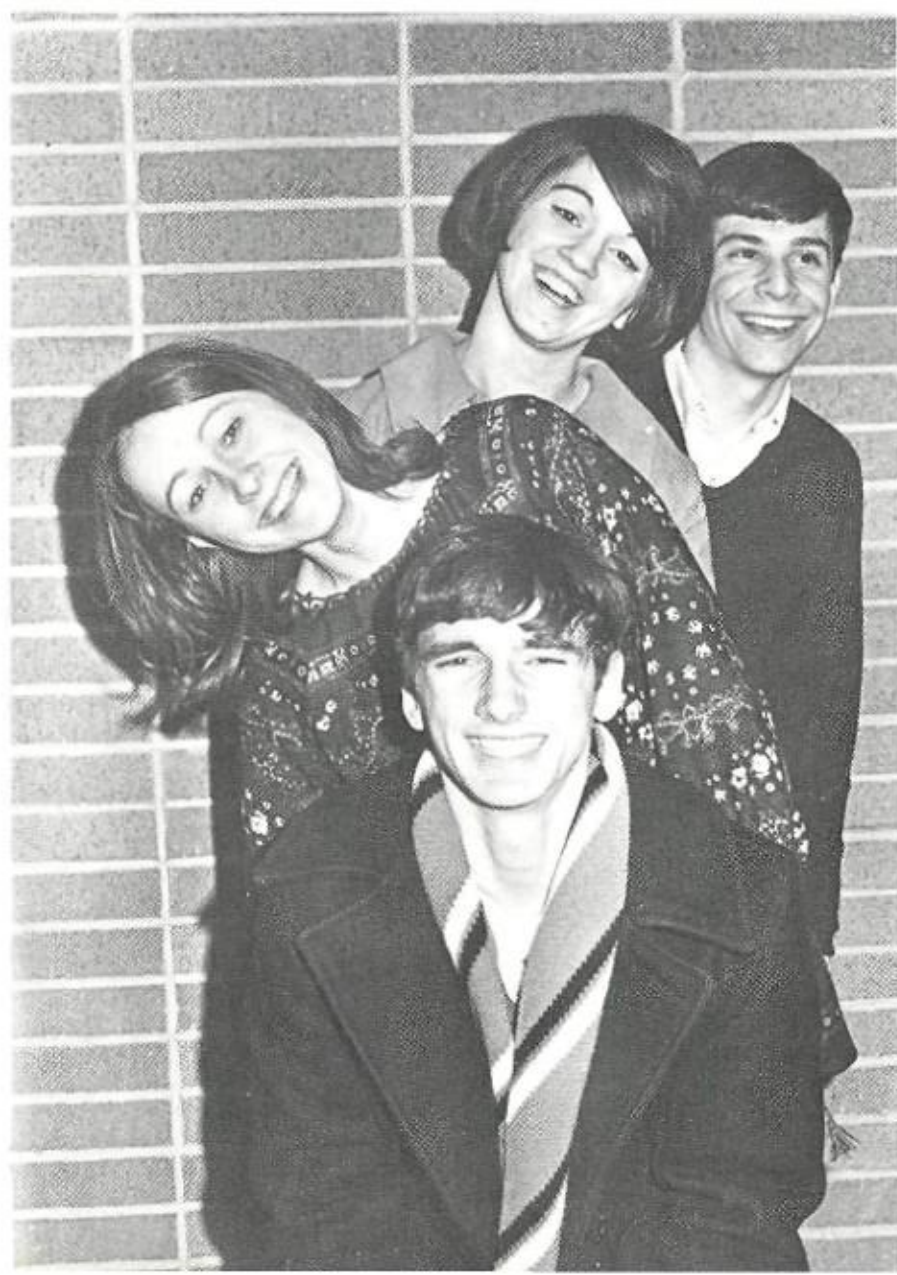

This year Student Council tried to overcome the "do-nothing club" image.

Last June the officers began working to organize many projects which would involve and benefit all of the students. Among these activities were repainting bleachers, replacing the torn and faded flags in classrooms and purchasing a water cooler as a gift to the school.

SC considered this year's Homecoming its biggest success. Through the winter months the club sponsored student council exchanges with other high schools, jacket sales to raise council funds, and a march for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The major spring project was the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Student Council's objective was to promote better school spirit and unity among classes through friendship and education.

Donating Their Time to S.H.S.

— Librarians, Photographers

The Photography Club has helped many amateur photographers find good subjects for pictures, take clear pictures, and learn to develop their own film. The club has helped the yearbook and newspaper greatly.

The Librarian Aids should receive many rewards for the help they have contributed to the school library. Without their help the library would be understaffed.

F.T.A. Sponors Trip to Miami

FTA meetings took on an informal mood as they planned activities for the 1971 year.

Students planning a career in education as well as those wishing to explore the learning process found an outlet for their interest in Future Teachers of America.

The club advised by Mrs. Carol Danks and Mr. Thomas Bilovecky, sponsored such varied activities as after game dances, a Christmas caroling party to St. Thomas Hospital and a trip to Miami University along with campaigning to pass the November school levy and awarding the club's scholarship. The 1971 officers were Beth Hardesty, president; Cindy Raffath, secretary; Peggy DeNiro, treasurer; Kathy Austin, historian.

New Clubs Initiated Spanish and French

French Club officers

Spanish and French club sponsored Christmas activities for their members.

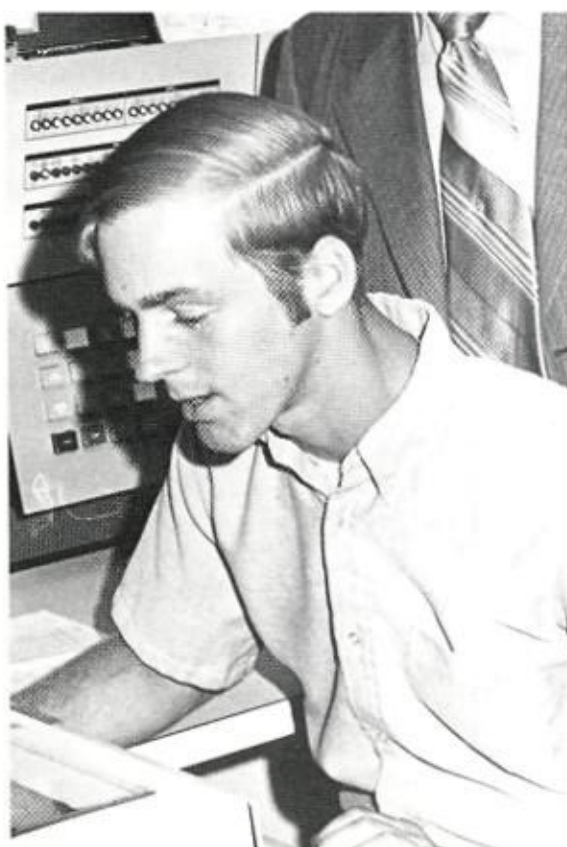

Two new clubs were created this year at Stow, making organized activity available to students of all three languages. The Spanish and French clubs, sponsored by Mr. James Boncek and Miss Lillian Bierce, offered practical experience in speaking the languages of the two countries as well as a chance to discover and investigate their customs. Working in conjunction with the American Field Service, they welcomed foreign exchange students and individually sponsored banquets at Christmas and club field trips.

The 1971 officers of the French Club were Bruce Rowland, president; Sue Tatko, vice president; Peggy Goodell, secretary. Officers for the Spanish Club were Cindy Hupp, president; Cindy Raffath, vice president; Margie Koch, secretary; Beth Hardesty, treasurer.

Stow's Diversified Education program is designed for Stow seniors planning a career in sales, merchandising or distribution. Students enrolled in the program spend half a day at school and the other half at a job in one of those areas. Sales work, warehouse work, display and management are a few of the areas in which D.E. students are involved. The emphasis in the program is on public contact development of the ability to deal well with other people on a day-to-day basis.

The Drama Club is open to all students interested in any of the varied aspects of the dramatic arts — acting, directing, producing, stage or costume design, makeup or writing. This year, the club's activities included assistance in the Junior and Senior class plays, trips to area theaters to see filmed productions and a trip to see the Weathervane Playhouse's production of "The Lion in Winter." Club advisor was Mr. Lawrence Heintz, and the 1970-71 officers were Jack Reichenbach, president; Meredith Morgan, vice-president; and Vickie Ford, secretary-treasurer.

Chess, Key Clubs Pursue Individual Interests

UP, UP, and AWAY!

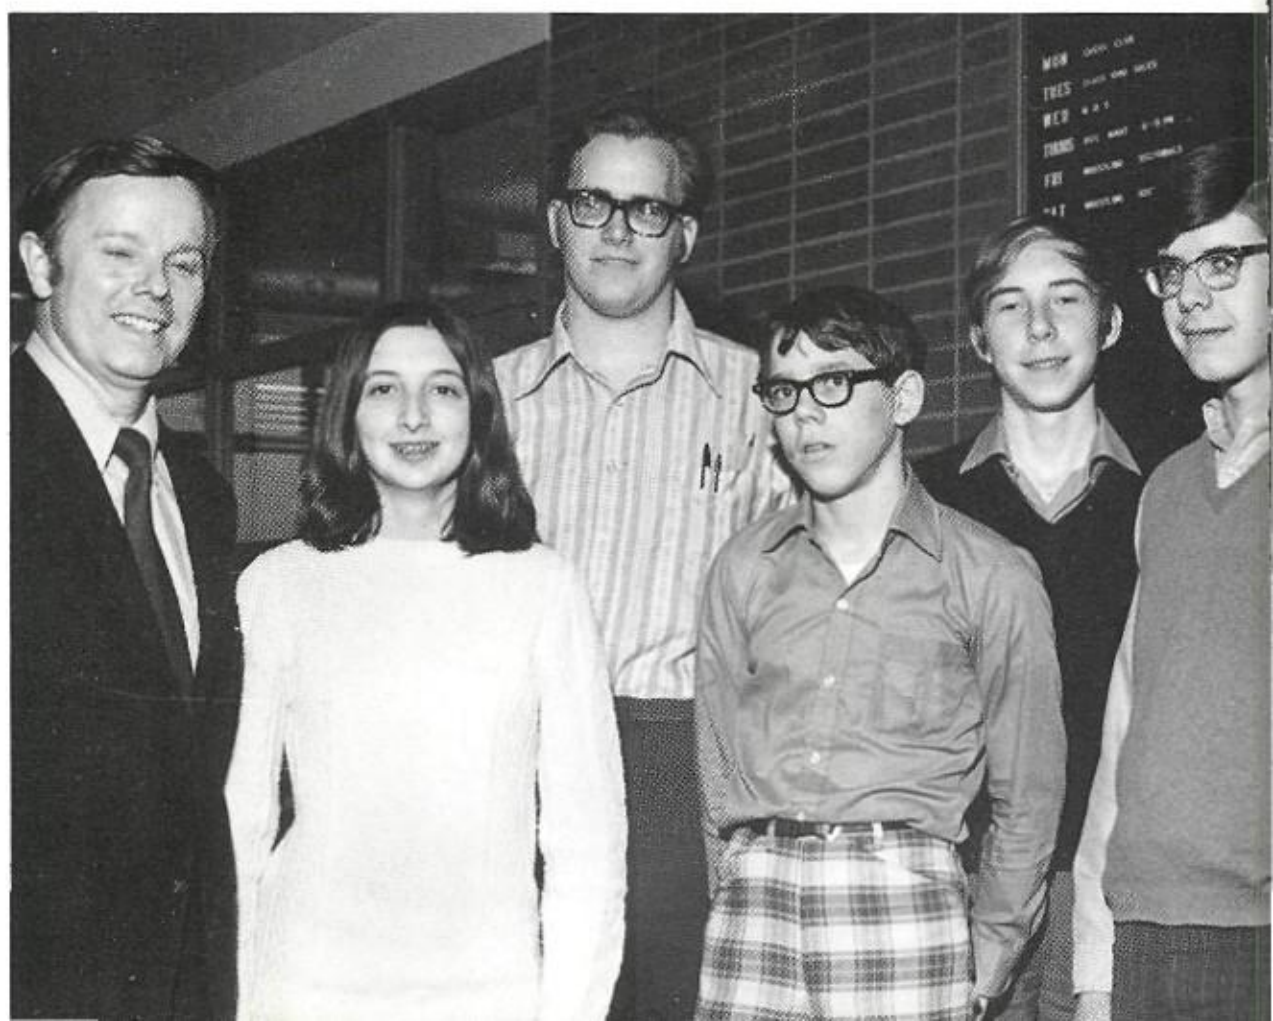

Key Club officers: Gordie Myers, Joe Bleau, Clark Stein, John McCreight, Mr. Blank (advisor).

Key Club, which is affiliated with the Kiwanis Club, has the main function of serving the community. Among the many activities they did were an after-game dance, four bottle drives, and a drive for Cystic Fibrosis.

The Chess Club provided students with an opportunity to enhance their abilities in playing chess. The club held after school matches with other schools to test their acquired skills.

Nurses Look to the Future

Future Nurses Officers: Mary Henterly, secretary; Margie McInerney, president; Jan Rhodes, vice-president.

Future Nurses of America is a nationwide organization of high school students interested in a career in hospital work. Stow's chapter, although not as active in school activities as it had hoped to be originally, provided guidance for its members in finding information about different types of nursing, hospitals and educational facilities open to them.

COE — Cooperative Office Education was quite active this year. A November bake sale was followed by a Christmas breakfast and a children's movie in January. COE also sponsored a stationery sale, a breakfast shower for Cindy Dias (formerly Castelhana), and an appreciation banquet in May at Embers II.

Future Secretaries of America is Stow High's club for those interested in planning a career in secretarial or office work. Among their 1970-71 activities were a bake sale, a candy sale and a visit to the Children's Home Christmas.

Miss Ann Loar

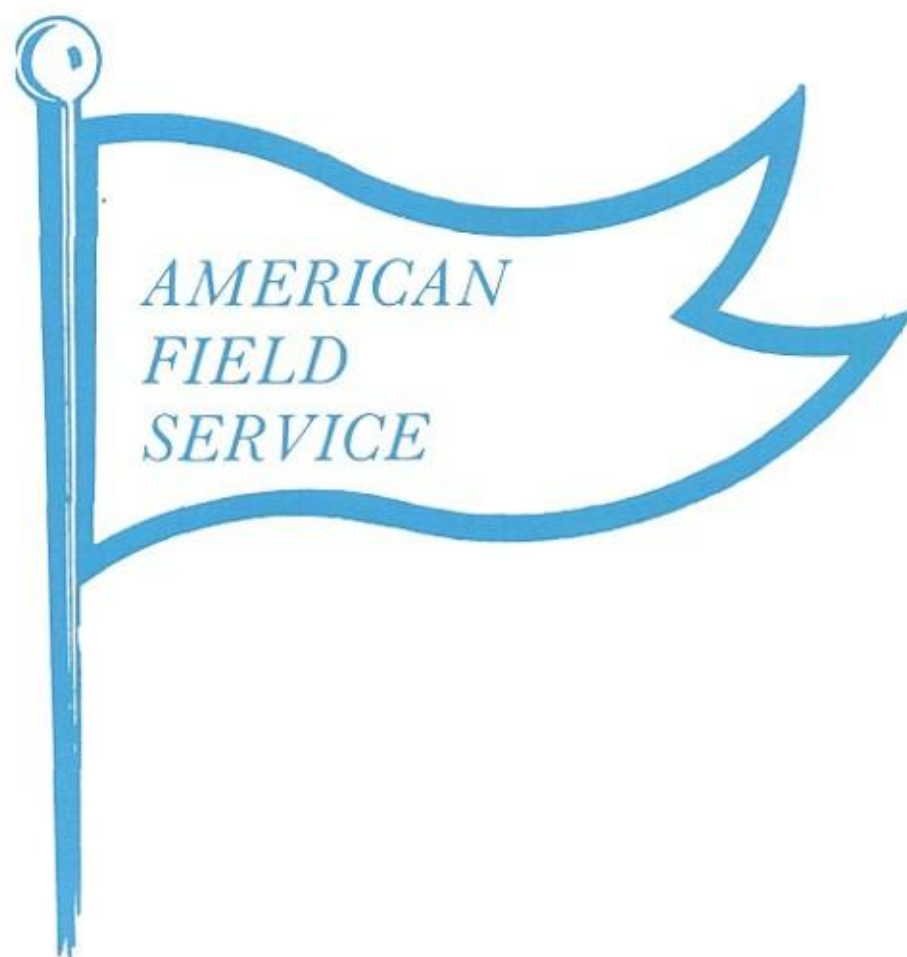

Mr. Rene Faltz

The American Field Service is an internationally based organization whose primary goal is to promote understanding among the young people of different nations by bringing them together. The United States is one of about sixty countries involved in the effort; Stow's one of many clubs at high schools across the nation. 1970-1971 was a very busy year for the members of A.F.S., who had two exchange students to welcome: René Faltz, who came to the United States from Luxembourg for his senior year at Stow, and Ann Loar, who returned at mid-year from her year in Australia. The club's activities included a summer dance in the school parking lot that served as an introduction of Stow Students to René — and vice versa; sponsorship of a booth in the Jaycee Bazaar; and participation in March's "Hike for Hunger." Officers were Carol Ellis, president; Laurie Stone, vice-president; Cathy McMillen, secretary; and Laura Vogel, treasurer.

"I sure don't feel like an angel."

The Y-Teens, the sister club of Hi-Y, had the monstrous job of coordinating the 1970 Christmas Formal. Working with the theme of "White Christmas," the members made arrangements for music, tickets and refreshments and also designed decorations for the dance. Among their other activities were a march to collect money for Muscular Dystrophy and a semester long donut sale.

Glistening snowflakes and mystical Christmas trees adorned the gym as Y-Teens and Hi-Y presented the 1970-71 Christmas Formal, "White Christmas." The crowning of Vicki Myers and Jerry Dolan as the Christmas Formal queen and king climaxed the evening. The court included Denise Tron, Sue Ditzler, Andy Folley and Jack Deleo, seniors. Juniors were Vicki Englehart and Debbie Tron escorted by Scott Carnes and Keith Doleresco. Dana Schoonover and Nancy Eichenlaub sophomores were escorted by Dennis Lyberger and Mike Schoonover. (not pictured) The crownbearers were Chris Laegel and David Natural.

Hi-Y Reorganizes

Hi-Y, affiliated with YMCA, is a service and recreational group for young men designed to encourage good citizenship and promote leadership. Advised by Mr. William Hackman, Stow High's chapter sponsored several activities with the Y-Teens and played a football game against them. Representatives were sent to the Tri-County Formal and to a Youth and Government Seminar in Washington. Officers for 1971 were Jerry Dolan, president; Larry Sullivan, vice-president; Jeff Maury, secretary; Jeff Joseph, treasurer.

Teambackers officers: Peggy DeNiro, vice-president; Joan Deibel, treasurer; Arlene Dahl, secretary.

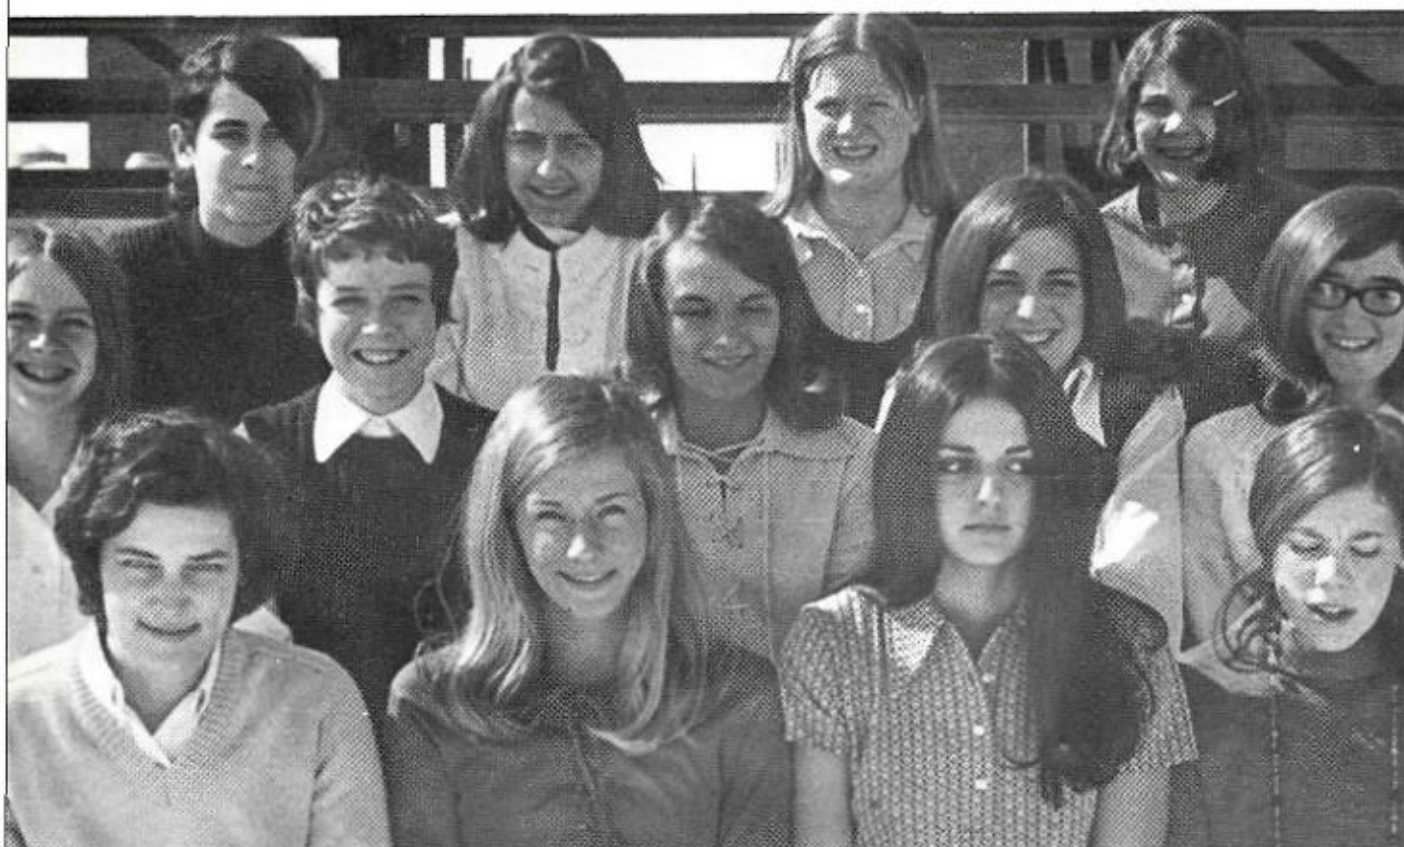

“Take your hands off me, you cur, you.”

The Teambackers were one of the most active clubs at Stow in 1971. Besides generally working to boost school spirit, they sold megaphones, pillows, footballs and Spirit tags; made signs for all the teams' games, meets and matches; and put together the float voted best in the Homecoming Parade. Officers for 1970-1971 were Pat Shubert, president; Peggy DeNiro, vice-president; Arlene Dahl, secretary; Joan Deibel, treasurer.

What is a yearbook marathon?

As I sat down to write this and discovered that I was writing with the wrong end of my pen, I began to realize that it has been a long year.

In September the yearbook staff gathered down in the yearbook room to begin production. It didn't take us long to realize we had reached our first big obstacle. Not one of us, including me, had the slightest idea of how to put a yearbook together. So we decided to stop farkeling around and learn. The highlight of the year was the two-day marathon that we had the weekend before the 81-page deadline. On the Friday before, only four pages were completed. By Sunday we had reached 81. What happened between those three days and nights is a blur but I'm sure the staff will never forget the chaos and confusion.

I'd like to thank the staff for their many hours of work and encouragement. Few people realize the tremendous amount of time and planning it takes. Neither did we at times, but when the deadlines rolled around we managed to keep our sanity.

One of the hardest things to get used to is the fact that 90% of our fantastic ideas were an impossibility. However, as I hope you've noticed the '71 Stoanno is really different. This year we have adopted a style, a theme, many special effects and a complete change of organization.

A special thanks goes to Mrs. Kaufman who was always around when I needed advice. Of course, I must mention our photographers, the unsung heroes, Greg Boughton, Jon DeMeza and Mr. Don Freeman. Without their help and patience the yearbook could never be produced.

I never realized that at the beginning of the year one of my biggest accomplishments would be marking X's on the yearbook progress chart. I hope next year's staff enjoys it as much as I did.

Best of Luck,
Pam

With a larger staff this year the Stohion involved themselves with not only school concerns, but also civic needs. The toy drive is a prime example of their involvement. The staff also showed concern by having a fund raising drive during the Spring to help next year's staff.

And the Bands Played on . . .

Alternately freezing and sweltering, the 1971 Marching Band once again proved their endurance on the football field. They were almost as tough as the team. In late August the Stow High Band traveled to Camp Muskingum for a week of hard work. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Willis and Mr. Richard Oliver, the group marched 76 bandmen, 12 alternates, a drum majorette, and 7 majorettes.

... And Then There Was Music

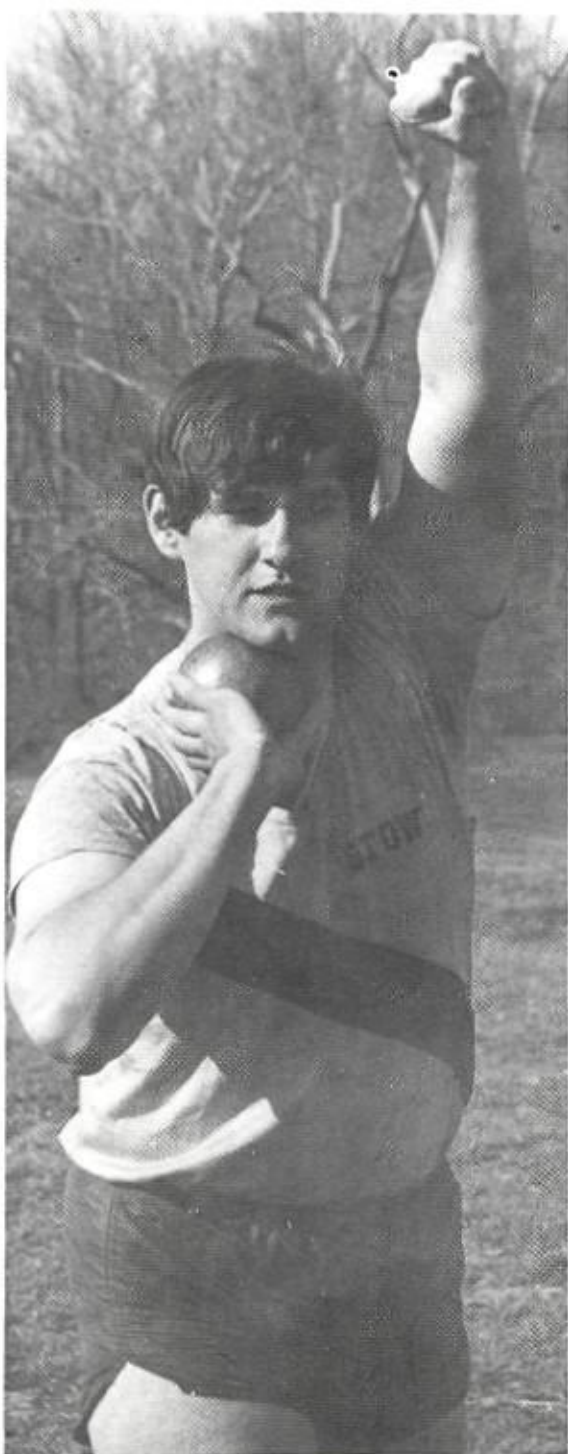

A Capella Choir was a unique experience for 80 people, an experience that included jumping around, clapping, laughing, listening and also singing. Not many people realize the endurance it takes to belong to a group such as this. Mr. Parke Cooley once again showed his excellent leadership and endurance with the end result being various performances. The choir's major efforts included the Christmas concert, March concert and Spring Serenade entitled "Let's Sing The Old Songs." In the end, Seniors found themselves saying "farewell" to something they'd really miss.

Wins Again

Coach "Smiley" Reinhart

Tough opponents and an extremely grueling season left the 1971 Stow Bulldogs with a 15-1-1 record. Backed by seniors Jon Strayer, Tim Shaub, and Andy Folley, the cross country team exhibited typical Bulldog dedication and spirit. With juniors Paul Perrine, Larry Minar, and Roger Howard, and sophomore Gene Donatell showed outstanding abilities and potential for the Stow Cross Country Team. Jon Strayer and Tim Shaub were State contenders.

Varsity Football — Second Effort

The Stow High Bulldogs were coached this year by head coach Dick Blake who was assisted by coaches John Bucey, Vincent Slentz, James Boncek and Darrel Williams.

The football team lost its first two games to Youngstown (city champs) and Green (suburban champs) only to come back to beat Norton followed by an exciting victory over Kent. The Bulldogs were then defeated by Springfield — a very damaging loss in the race for the Metro. Homecoming was a heartbreaking loss to Ellet by a bad call on the referees decision. The team then came back to beat Tallmadge and Triway. It was a moral victory for Stow over Walsh as Stow was the only team to send Walsh into the locker room at half-time, losing. Walsh pulled through though, 16-14. Through the mud and the slime Ravenna defeated Stow in the last game.

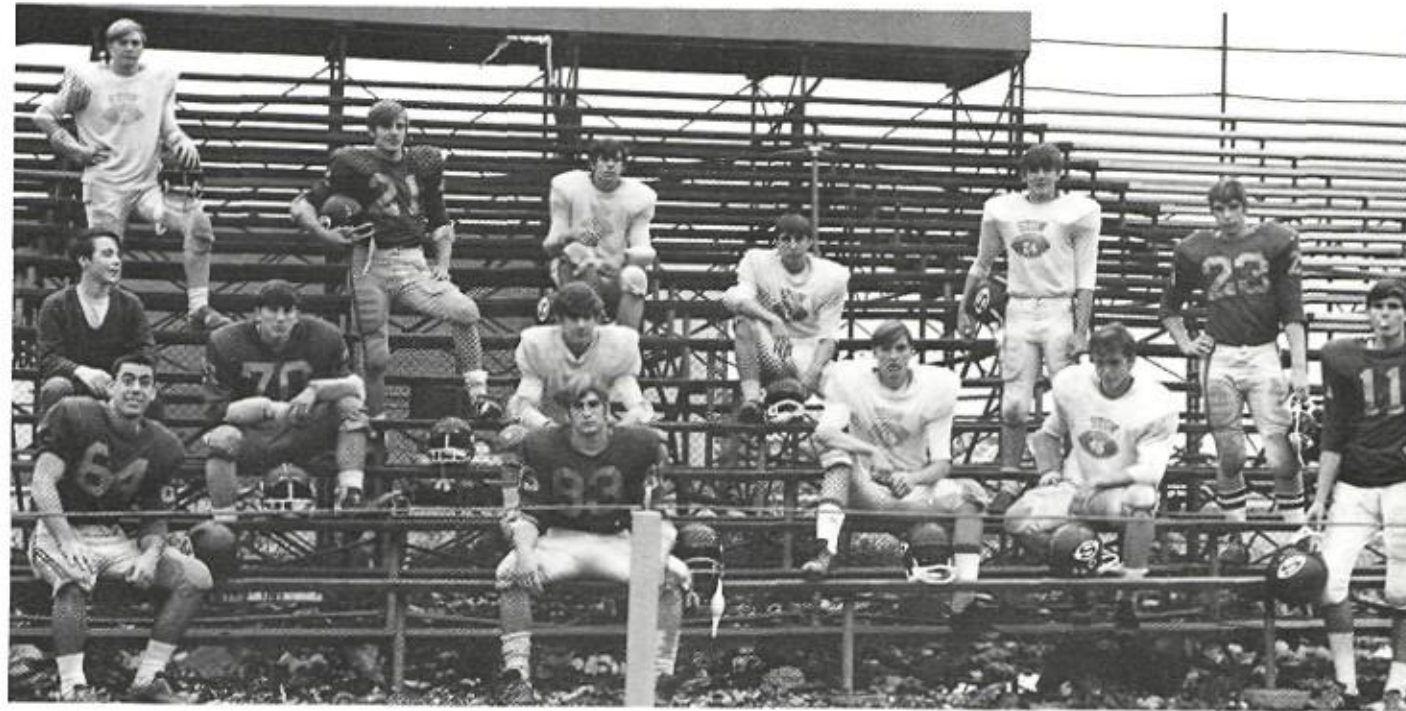

Jim Armstrong, Bill Wiggins, Don Greenleaf and Fred Smith made the all-Metro 1st team. Don Greenleaf and Bill Wiggins were named most valuable player and most valuable back, respectively, at the awards assembly.

Back row: C. Bone, D. Clapsaddle, T. Tomayko, M. Currier, T. McCleary, J. Tomayko, L. Wolfe, D. Wahl, K. Weingart, C. Stein. 4th row: C. Myers, B. Ehrgot, K. Doloresco, B. Hannibal, S. Stricker, M. As shown in the pictures above, it was near-death for Walsh as Stow taught the undefeated team what sweating is all about.

As always, the main function of any J.V. team is to prepare for the next year by trying to gain experience and sharpen abilities. The J.V. football team ended their season with a 2-5 record. Lots of hard work and spirit endured through the Saturday morning games.

One unique feature of the J.V. basketball team is that every man was his own captain. Jeff Cardis found that this was not always enough guidance as he scored in the opponent's basket. The team wound up with a winning season.

With only one returning letterman on the basketball team this year, the team's main handicap was inexperience. Under the coaching of Mr. Willis Walker, the team struggled to an 8-10 overall record and a Metro record of 3-9. Mike Morrow was the team's leading scorer while Nick Telew got the rebounds for the roundballers. This year was a rebuilding year for the Bulldogs will have seven men returning as compared to only two this year.

Winning Ingredients for Wrestlers

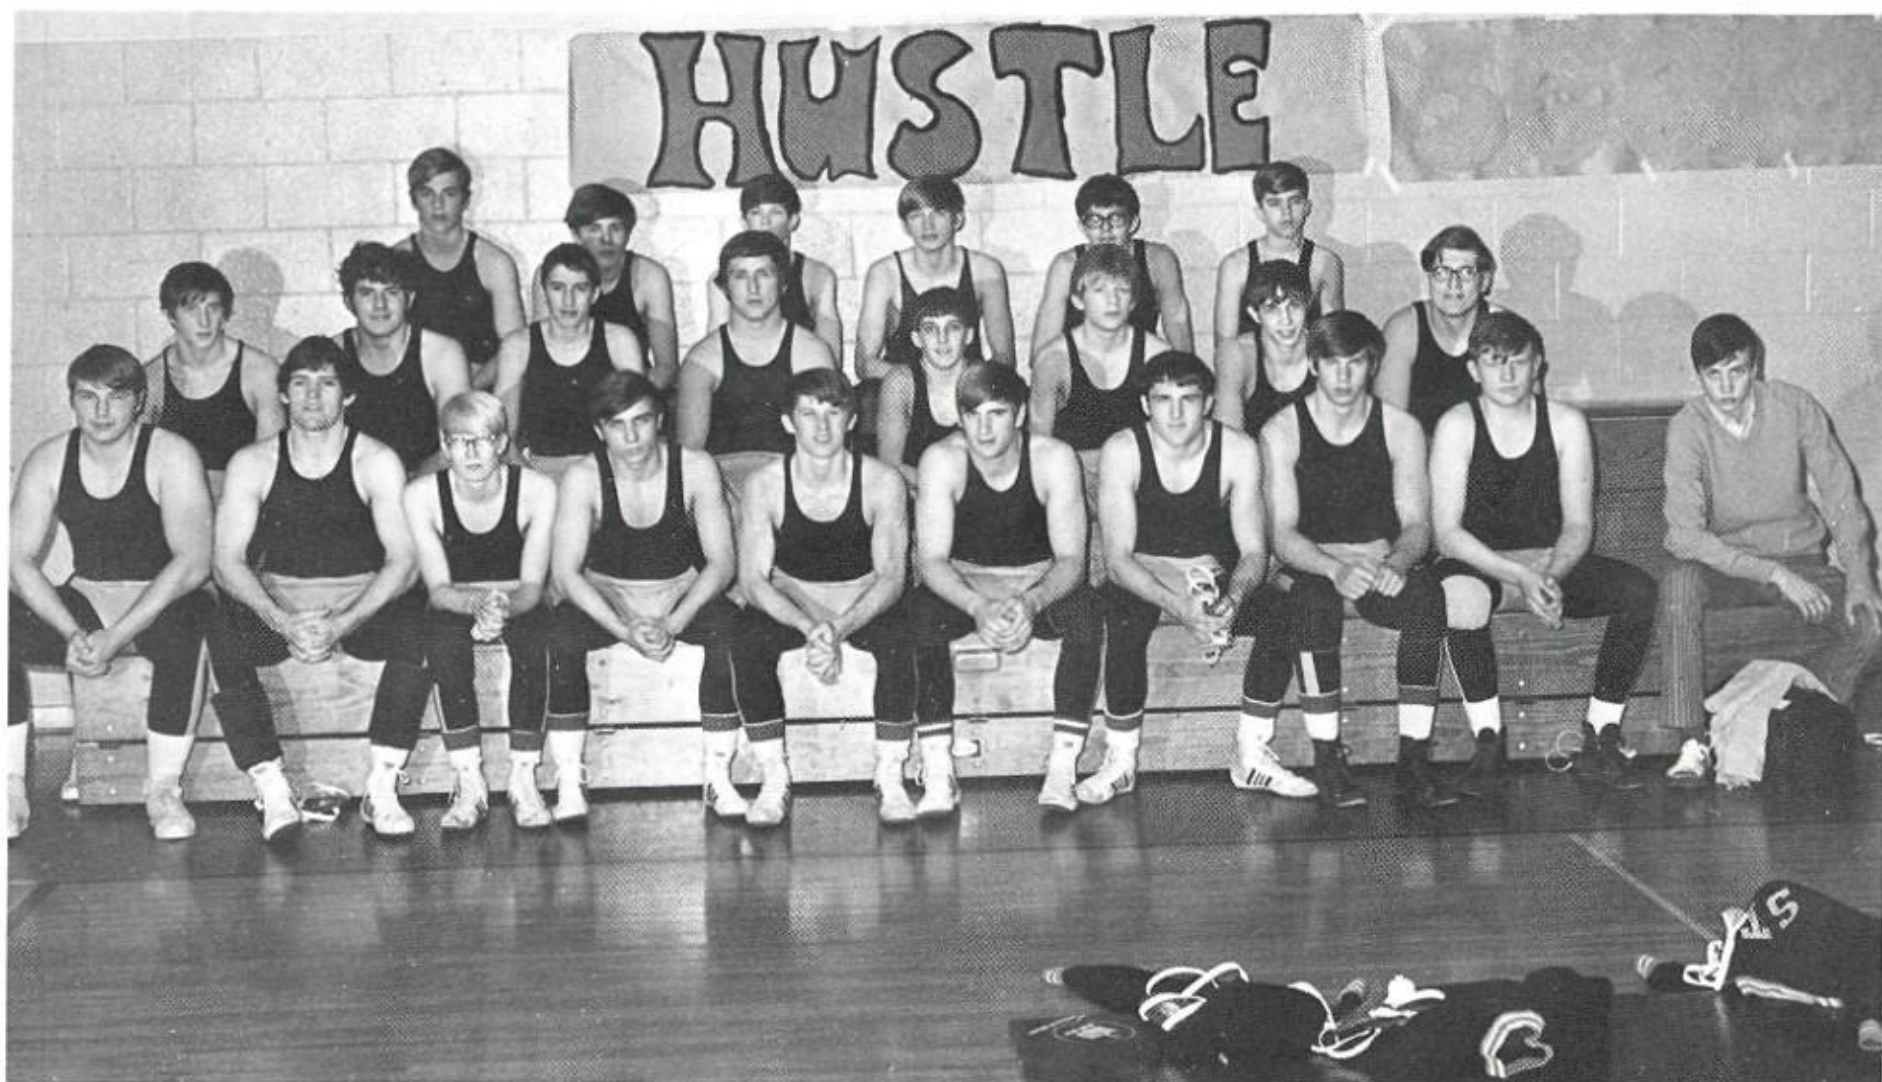

"What are ya doin' tonight, honey?"

Stow Grapplers proved tough competition on the mats in their 1970-71 season. Stow finished with a 10-2 dual meet record with five wrestlers — Steve Bliss, Larry Sullivan, Mike Wyszynski, Bob Martin, and Fred Smith — going undefeated to the Metro. Larry Sullivan, an outstanding senior wrestler, took an individual league crown in the Metro tourney as did Fred Smith. In the sectionals, Stow placed sixth with two tournament champs — Sullivan and Don Greenleaf. Competing in the district meet, the team placed sixth with Sullivan, first place; Joe Fronk, Don Greenleaf, Fred Smith, third places, all qualifying for state competition. In Columbus for the state meet, Larry entered the semi-finals and placed fourth. Under the exceptional coaching of James Tyree, the team completed a very successful season.

Hard Work and Effort — Track '71

"Put back that foam!"

"Snake!!!"

"I don't stop for nobody."

"Get me!"

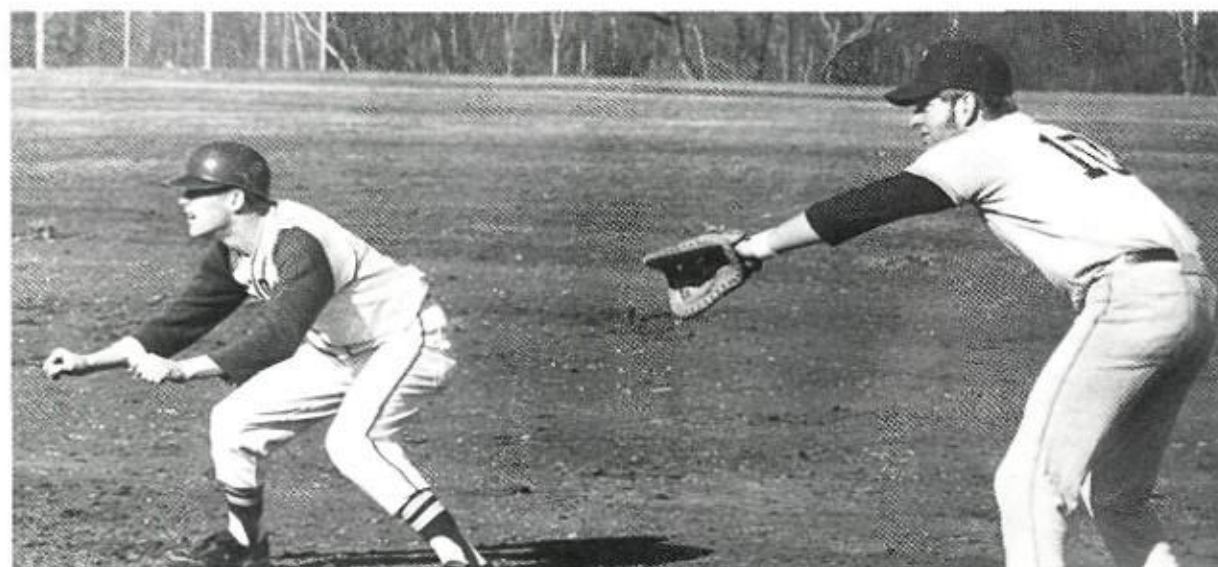

"Move that bar!"

Stow Cindermen ended a successful season this past year by sending two boys to the state meet. The only true disappointment for the cindermen was not obtaining the season's main goal: winning the Metro. The cindermen ran much better (according to time) than when the 1970 team earned the Metro. Many records were broken and major goals reached.

Diamondmen Look to New Year . . .

The baseball team did not finish as well as expected in spring action, but Stow's all time best golf team put it all together and lived up to the expectations of Coach Jack Walker with their fine performances.

Although quite disappointed this season, the baseball team is looking forward to next year's season. Experience will be a big factor; three underclassmen, Scott Carnes, Gary Carter, and Bill Wiggins, were selected for the All-Metro Team.

The Linksters' strength lay within their strong nucleus of four senior lettermen, Jeff Fleming, Mo Morrow, Don Schnee and Jerry Dolan who made the trip to state competition. The team finished fourth in state competition, and high honors went to Mo Morrow and Jeff Fleming, 2nd and 6th in individual competition. Jeff was low medalist in the Metro, a match a linksters took in a sudden death play-off.

Sophs "Can" Upperclasses

Sophomores showed Stow High that a concern for the less fortunate combined with class spirit results in an overwhelming number of cans. The Student Involvement Corps sponsored the first can drive at Stow High with the underlying theme being class competition. After the drive was completed, over 5,000 cans were collected, the sophomores contributing the most.

Juniors Present — “Miss Jimmy”

Today Stow High — tomorrow Broadway.

I will NOT do a nude scene.

The trials and tribulations of being a star.

Are you sure Liz and Richard got started this way?

SENIORS — faces of leadership

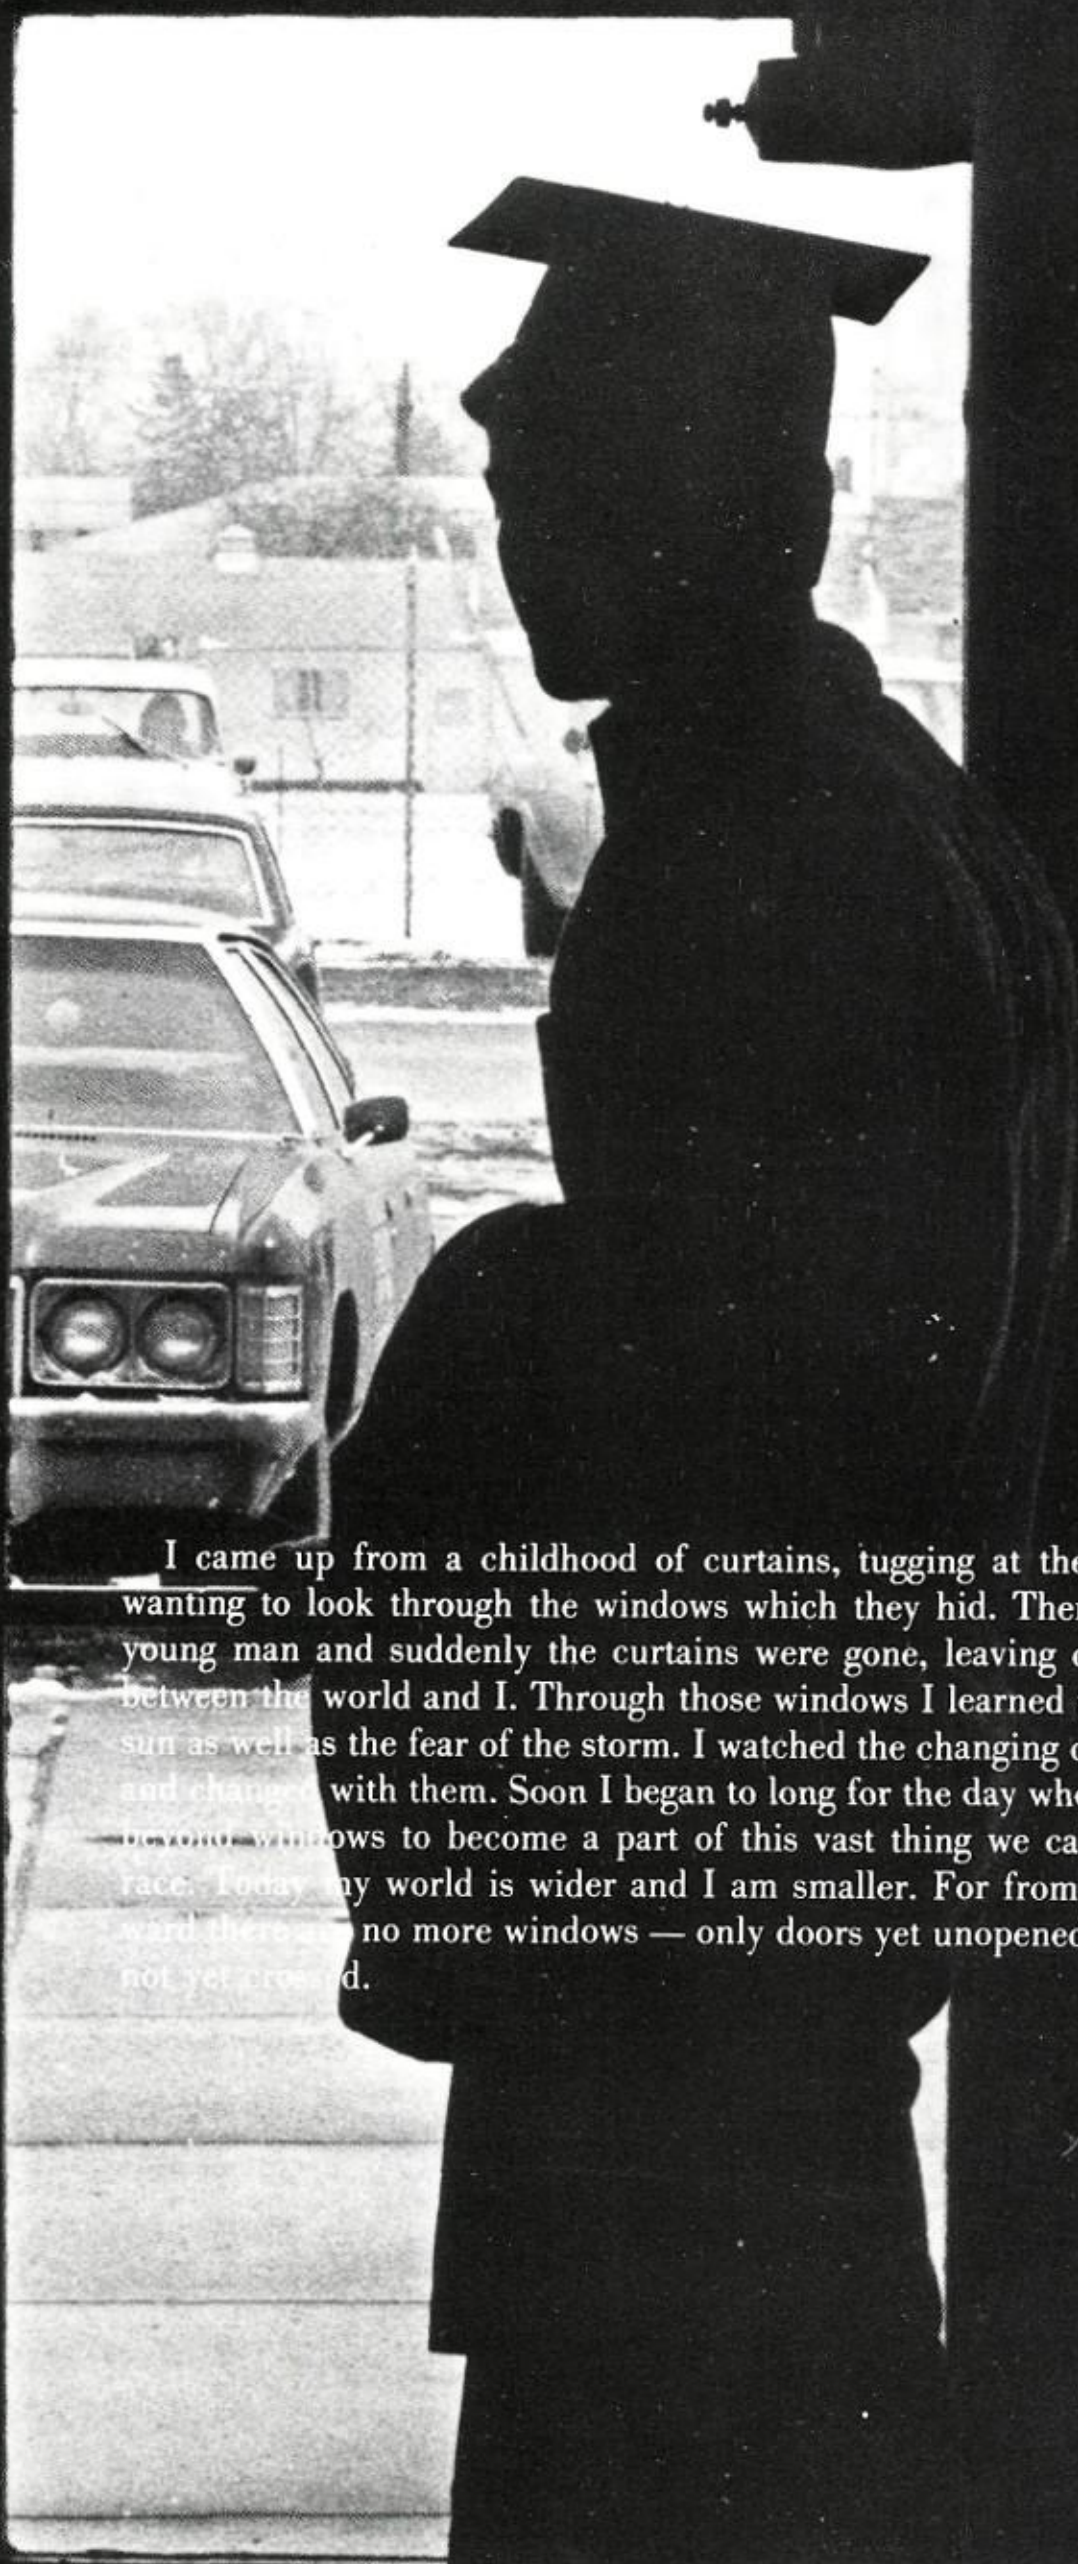

Seniors —

The final year streams by,
you stop to remember
what it meant to come here first — younger and afraid, uncertain

of what would follow . . .
the world is larger now

did it grow around or from within you?

. . . who can say?

I came up from a childhood of curtains, tugging at them curiously, wanting to look through the windows which they hid. Then I became a young man and suddenly the curtains were gone, leaving only windows between the world and I. Through those windows I learned the joy of the sun as well as the fear of the storm. I watched the changing of the seasons and changed with them. Soon I began to long for the day when I would go beyond windows to become a part of this vast thing we call the human race. Today my world is wider and I am smaller. For from this day forward there are no more windows — only doors yet unopened and bridges not yet crossed.

This year's Senior Class officers are Don Greenleaf, vice-president; Kathy Austin, treasurer; Jeanne Wood, secretary; and Joe Bleau, president.

I have had playmates, I have had companions,
 In my days of childhood, in my joyful school days —
 All, all are gone, the old familiar faces.
